LABOR HOSTS GATHER ON EAST SIDE OF BAY

Shellmound Park Is the Scene of Elaborate Festivities

Officials Lay Bricks; the Governor Is Day's Orator

Addresses by noted public officials and leaders of labor, burlesque races, a bricklaying contest, and other attractions, are the features of one of the biggest celebrations ever held under the auspices of union labor today. The workmen of both sides of the bay gathered for their big Labor Day celebration at Shellmound Park. Despite the threatening weather of early morning, the crowds came thick and fast from all parts of the bay region. The news that P. H. McCarthy and Governor Johnson would speak, and that prominent officials would appear in a "bricklaying contest," drew many. Practically every local union on either side of the bay was well represented, a happy throng of men, women and children gathered at the big amusement park.

The celebration was arranged under joint auspices, the building trades and labor organizations of both San Francisco and Oakland meeting as one to organize committees and prepare for the great event. While there were no Labor Day parades, the picnic was held by the union officials to have furnished a greater celebration than has ever before been held in the bay region. No pains were spared by the committees in charge. The races, the "tag-of-war" contests, and the other events, witnessed by thousands, were run off without a hitch. One of the features of the afternoon's schedule was the brick-laying contest between Commissioner of Public Works William J. Baccus of Oakland and Senator Scott of San Francisco. While the affair was one of hilarity, it wasn't because either man didn't know how to lay bricks. In fact, they gave a scientific demonstration. Both are well-known contractors. The "loaded wheelbarrow" race was another feature of the afternoon. Police and firemen competed in the "tag-of-war" event, and the straight athletic events were run off under the

Oakland Gets First Rainfall of Season

Shortly after midnight last evening the first rain of the fall season fell. The shower came as a surprise, despite the fact that the clouds were hovering overhead for several days. "There will be a number of similar showers this month," said H. M. Sanborn, local weather forecaster. "We must always look for light showers in September."

During the past twenty-four hours the H. M. Sanborn rain gauge recorded .05 inch up to noon today. "The weather has been making for rain for several weeks and farmers aren't surprised at the unseasonable showers of this morning," remarked an agricultural weather prophet. According to farmers the fall weather which has prevailed will have slight effect on the late crops. Although the sky has been much overcast, the temperature has remained fairly high. Tomatoes, which are an excellent crop, are fully matured, and the pickers are engaged in most of the tomato fields.

WRITING OF NATIONAL ANTHEM IS TO BE OBSERVED IN STATE

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 7.—Governor Hiram W. Johnson today issued the following proclamation calling for the observance of next Monday, September 14, the centennial anniversary of the writing of the Star Spangled Banner.

"Next Monday, September 14, will be the centennial anniversary of the Star Spangled Banner, and in compliance with the numerous requests from civic and other organizations I commend to the people of California an observance of the day with some patriotic manifestation."

"The singing of the hymn in the schools, in places of recreation and at all gatherings where it is feasible has been suggested and I join heartily in proposing this plan. For us all, old and young, our national hymn is a source of worthiest inspiration and a celebration of its great contribution to our nationality should give added impulse to our patriotic zeal."

'STRIKE MUST END'

Such Is President Wilson's Demand on Colorado Union and Operators.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—President Wilson has addressed letters to the miners and operators concerned in the Colorado coal strike, virtually demanding that the long strife be ended. He addressed his letters to the heads of the mining companies and to officers of the United Mine Workers of America.

Two mediators sent to Colorado months ago have heard proposals and counter proposals, but reached no solution. Because Federal troops are on duty in the strike district, the President feels that the government has a peculiar interest.

HOW MANY QUIT?

DENVER, Sept. 7.—The Colorado miners' strike was called September 23, 1913. The number of men who quit was estimated at 2500 by the operators and 11,000 by the union officials.

Almost from the beginning the strike was marked by intermittent disorders until late in October, when Governor Ammons sent the National Guard into strike districts. The climax of these disorders came after most of the militia had been sent home, beginning with the battle of Ludlow between strikers and state troops on April 20 and continuing until President Wilson ordered to the scene Federal troops, which arrived April 30. Sixty-six persons are known to have been killed in the strike disorders and the known list of wounded numbers forty-eight. Since the arrival of Federal soldiers quiet has prevailed.

Germany to Reopen Belgian Gun Works

LONDON, Sept. 7.—A dispatch to the Chronicle from Amsterdam says that the Germans are preparing to reopen immediately the gun factories at Cockerill near Liege. These factories, covering 375 acres, were one of the richest prizes captured by the Germans in the war.

The whole concern has been taken over by the Prussian war office, which has offered the Belgian workmen a 10 per cent increase in wages to remain at their places.

China Will Not Be at Naval Rendezvous

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—China officially notified the State Department of its inability to participate in the naval rendezvous at the Panama-Pacific exposition. Conditions arising because of the war were given as the reason, and the Chinese foreign office expressed its deep regret.

CZAR TO STORM LAST OF AUSTRIANS' FORTS IN GALICIA

By Associated Press.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 7.—The following announcement was given out today: "The Austrian army corps between the river Vistula and the river Bug are retreating with enormous loss. The resistance of the enemy has been broken. There are evidences of the possibility of a famine in Austria."

TAKE 70,000 PRISONERS.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Sept. 7.—In a dispatch from Petrograd a correspondent of the Havas Agency says that the Russians took 70,000 Austrian prisoners and 300 cannon of various sizes around Lemberg alone. They also captured three regimental flags, forty-one cannon, two aeroplanes, fifteen officers and 1200 men in other engagements in Galicia.

TO STORM FORTRESS.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Sept. 7, 10:50 a. m.—Official reports from Russia state that Russian troops are gradually surrounding Przemsyl, which will soon either surrender or be taken by assault.

Przemsyl is a strong fortress fifty miles west of Lemberg, and its fall would mean the loss by the Austrians of the last stronghold in Galicia. It would clear the way to an advance of the Russians westward towards the junction of their forces on the East Prussian frontier.

AUSTRIAN ARMY DEFEATED.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Sept. 7, 3:38 p. m.—According to advices received here, a second Austrian army operating in front of Krasnosodov, in the Lublin region, has suffered great losses and is now on the defensive. Some of the Austrians have been forced to retreat.

British Cruiser Is Stranded in Fight

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—A Berlin wireless to the German embassy says: "British cruiser Warrior stranded, probably as result of fight with cruiser Goeben, while escaping from the Bosphorus."

The dispatch contains nothing to amplify or explain.

There was nothing to indicate which cruiser was escaping from the Bosphorus or what had happened to the Goeben. The indefinite terms of the dispatch aroused added interest, because of the fact that the Goeben with the Breslau, another ship, after being chased by hostile ships at the beginning of the war took refuge in the Dardanelles and were later reported taken over by the Turkish navy although it was understood a German crew remained aboard.

The latter feature opened the possibility of a conflict between British and Turkish ships. In view of the threatened entry of Turkey into the European conflict by a declaration of war on Russia, this possibility was regarded with added importance.

Says Belgians Must Aid Trench Digging

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Sept. 7.—An Oxford states to the Havas Agency says: "A new violation of the laws of war has been committed by the Germans. The military governor of Brussels has forced the Belgian workmen, although ordered to help on the work of the fortifications of the city, especially trench digging."

SAYS LANDSTURM HAS WHITE-HAIRED ARMY DOING DAILY DRILLING

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Sept. 7, 4:50 a. m.—A dispatch to the Times from Ostend reports that arrivals from Brussels state that many of the Landsturm troops drilling daily are men with white hair, which, the correspondent says, shows that Germany called up every man able to bear a rifle. Similar statements are made by those who have seen German soldiers proceeding north to Antwerp.

Leipzig Took Coal From British Ship

By Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—British freighter Cetriana under charter to the German government was stripped of her wireless by the German cruiser Leipzig on August 5, off Magdalena Bay, Lower California, and her cook, a German, and one other German reservist were taken aboard the Leipzig.

This was the word brought by Captain Minister of the British naval reserve, commanding the Cetriana, which arrived here today. The Cetriana left here July 24 laden with 800 tons of coal consigned to the Leipzig. The two vessels met in Magdalena Bay and the Leipzig was coaled on August 4, the day war was declared.

Not until some time later, through Rear Admiral Howard, at Nazareth commanding the American fleet, did the Cetriana learn that war had been declared. Coming north, the vessel hugged the three-mile limit.

OFF FOR SOUTH AMERICA

By Associated Press.

SEATTLE, Sept. 7.—The German cruiser Leipzig which has not been sighted since August 19, when she was off Cape Mendocino, is believed to be working her way to the Atlantic ocean by skirting South America. She can obtain coal and shelter there, and if chased into port by a superior force she can dismantle and lie up.

The British navy has positive information that the Leipzig left the North Pacific and to show its feeling of acrimony it has given its charter of the fast Grand Trunk steamship Prince George which was used as a scout ship when it was feared the Leipzig was bound north.

Transports are reported to be on the way from Australia with Australia and New Zealand volunteers who will be landed at Vancouver and transported to the Atlantic coast by rail. The cruiser Nürnberg is the only German warship in the Pacific. She coaled at Honolulu recently.

The Japanese cruiser Izumo, whose base is Esquimaux, is guard ship off the California coast. The British cruisers Newcastle and Rainbow are protecting the entrance to the Strait of Fuca.

TOOK WIRELESS OUTFIT.

By Associated Press.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 7.—The owners of the Cetriana were notified on August 5 by Captain Minister that the Leipzig had taken the Cetriana's wireless outfit. The Leipzig had previously installed the wireless on the Cetriana for the warship's own convenience.

German Siege Guns Placed at Brussels

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Sept. 7.—A dispatch to the Times from Ostend says: "The Germans have placed siege guns around Brussels. These are of heavy calibre and are much in evidence."

"I learn from a sure source," the Times' Ostend correspondent continues, "that Emperor William was at Brussels Wednesday evening, staying at the Hotel Bellevue the same night. He appointed General von Luttwitz governor of Belgium."

Crown Prince Frederic-William gave a banquet at the royal palace at Laeken this evening."

GERMANS' ACTION AGAINST METROPOLIS OF FRANCE BEGINS

By Associated Press.

PARIS (via London), Sept. 7, 8:35 p. m.—It was officially announced tonight that the Germans are retreating from the line of Nanteuil Le Hardouin to Verdun after a vigorous action with French and British troops.

BULLETIN.

By Associated Press.

Paris, Sept. 7, 4:30 p. m.—From official communications given out in Paris today it is learned that the engagements which began Saturday and Sunday to the east and northeast of the French capital developed today into one of the most important battles of the campaign. The armies of the allies are opposing the German advance over a front extending for about 120 miles from Nanteuil Le Hardouin, 25 miles to the northeast of Paris, to the great fortress of Verdun, in the department of Meuse, and 20 miles west of the German frontier.

The number of men engaged is not generally known. The French troops were strongly supported by the British soldiers, who passed through Paris several days ago.

The allies conducted their operations so successfully that a portion of the German forces were forced to retire. The Germans had reached the region around Coulommiers and La Ferte Gaucher, respectively 30 and 40 miles to the east of Paris, when the detachments covering the flanks of the main German army encountered advanced detachments of the allies, who drove them back.

The wounded began coming into Paris this afternoon.

FIRING IS HEARD IN PARIS.

Nearness of this fighting to Paris was responsible for the reports current this afternoon that the sound of firing could be heard from the city itself. The day was clear and a strong wind from the east would tend to support the contention of those who declare they heard the sound of artillery.

The inhabitants of Paris gathered in great crowds near the gates of the city to watch the passage of military dispatch bearers, who from time to time came dashing in from the east in swift automobiles. In some quarters it is estimated that nearly 1,000,000 troops are engaged in this fighting.

around the city were reserved today for the use of the military authorities, while large numbers of private automobiles and taxicabs have been employed in conveying provisions to the scene of operations.

Teutons Retire

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Sept. 7, 4:35 p. m. — Judging from reports made public in Paris, German troops at the flanks of the main German army, encountered advance detachments of the allies in the fighting east of the capital today at a point near La Ferte-Gaucher, and were obliged to retire.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Sept. 7, 4:40 p. m. — It is estimated unofficially that nearly 1,000,000 troops are engaged in the fighting which is progressing in the east of Paris today.

GERMAN BACKS TOWARD CAPITAL.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Sept. 7, 12:30 p. m. — In the fighting which is going on today to the east and northeast of Paris, the German forces have their backs toward the capital. French troops are harassing their march. From time to time the Germans turn and engage the French at their backs. French shells fall continually in the German rear.

Observers consider that it is obvious that the Germans could not attack Paris while the French armies were intact and are continuing their wide turning movement under perilous circumstances.

The Red Cross surgeons and ambulance corps in Paris had received instructions that when they heard firing to go in the direction of the sound. Doctors E. L. Gross and A. J. Magnin of the American ambulance corps were first on the field yesterday with ten automobiles and twenty stretcher bearers.

PICK UP ARABS.

They left the city in the evening and following the sound of the cannonading reached the French lines and passed beyond them until they were within the zone between the armies. They picked up some wounded Arabs, who had been pressing in pursuit of the Germans.

Following a trail afforded by the smoke from burning farm houses, the physicians encountered a French patrol, who said that between 250 and 300 wounded Germans were in a ruined church close to the German line and attended by a single German surgeon and two nurses.

BRING UP SIEGE GUNS.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Sept. 7, 8:20 a. m. — The correspondent of the Daily News in Paris, in a dispatch under Saturday's date, says he understands that heavy guns from Calais, Boulogne and Cherbourg have been brought up to reinforce the defenses of Paris. Twenty-five thousand marine fusiliers, he states, marched through the city early yesterday.

GERMANS MAY BE TRAPPED.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Sept. 7, 4:30 p. m. — Lieutenant-Colonel Rousset, military critic of La Liberte, said today that the German armies had placed themselves in a position, to the east and northeast of Paris, which might become hopeless in case they suffered a check.

GERMAN LOSSES 5000 MEN.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Sept. 7, 10 a. m. — Telegraphing from Ostend, a correspondent of Reuters Telegram Company says the German casualties in the fighting around Termonde, sixteen miles east of Ghent, Friday and Saturday are estimated at 5000 men.

A number of German soldiers were drowned when the dykes around Termonde were cut and several German guns were lost in the flood.

BATTLE EAST OF PARIS.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Sept. 7, 3:30 p. m. — A general action is today proceeding to the east of Paris, from Nanteuil Le Haudouin to Verdun according to an official communication given out this afternoon.

The text of the official notice is as follows: "A general action has started on the line through Nanteuil Le Haudouin, Meaux, Sezanne and Vitry Le Francois and extending to Verdun.

"Thanks to the vigorous action of our troops, strongly supported by the British, the Germans started retreating.

"The Germans had advanced Saturday and Sunday into the region below Coulommiers and La Ferte Gaucher.

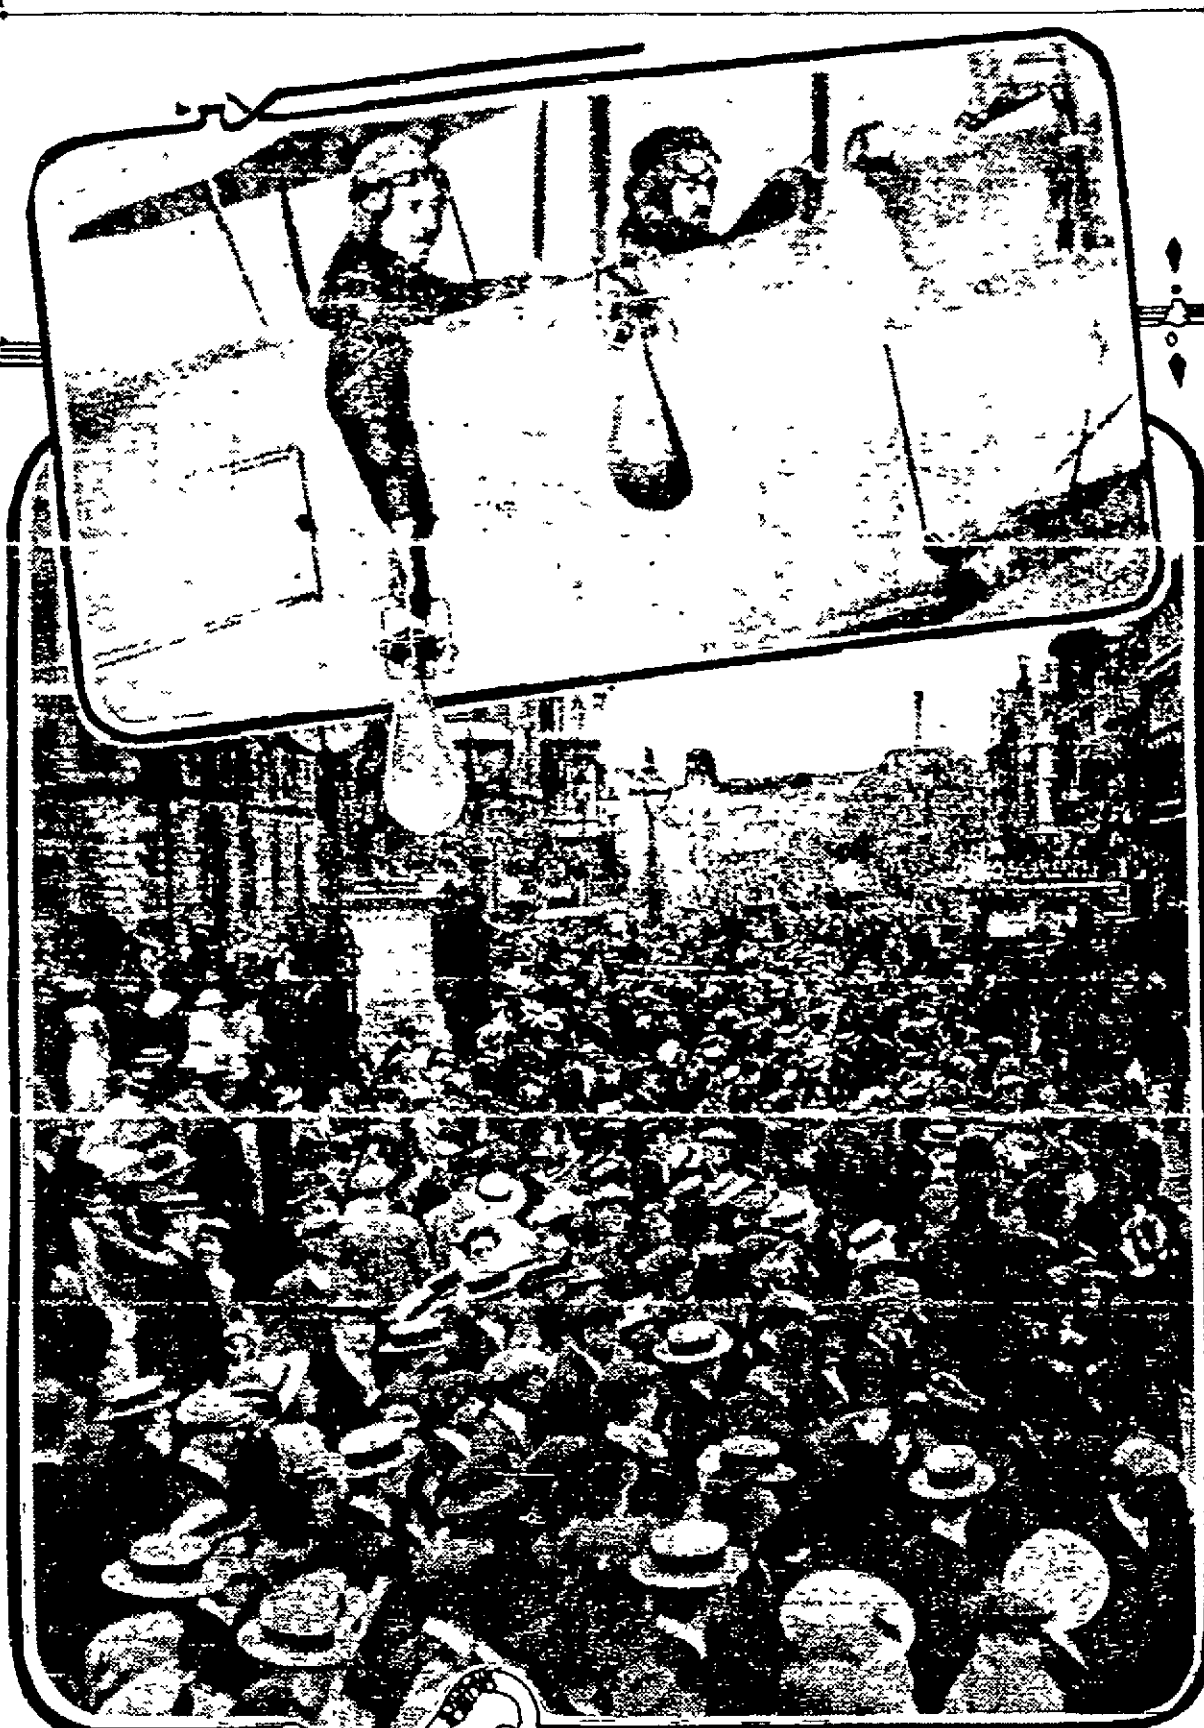

"In the Austro-Russian theater of operations twelve divisions of the Austrian army in the vicinity of Lemberg, Galicia, had been completely destroyed."

Before the official announcement was made newspaper dispatches from both Berlin and London indicated that engagements of tremendous importance were being fought in the district described by the French war office.

The Berlin correspondent, whose dispatch was dated last Friday, said that a great battle was being waged on the French center from Rethel to Verdun. A message from London early today expressed the common belief in England that a decisive battle was being fought at Verdun. An attack on Nancy was reported yesterday, and it was said that Emperor William was with the attacking army.

Meaux is twenty-two miles east of Paris, and Sezanne is about fifty-five miles east of the capital. Sezanne is also twenty-five miles southwest of Epernay. Vitry Le Francois is on the right bank of the river Marne, and twenty-five miles southwest of Verdun. Coulommiers is in the department of Seine and Marne, and it is thirteen miles southeast of Meaux and thirty miles easterly from Paris. La Ferte Gaucher is twenty miles east of Coulommiers and about forty miles to the east of Paris.

DECISIVE BATTLE BEING FOUGHT.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Sept. 7, 9:45 a. m. — The belief is growing that a great, decisive battle is being fought at Verdun, the strong fortress of France on the Meuse, near the French frontier.

If the fourth German army, marching southward, cuts off the retreat of the French eastern armies which recently have been holding the Germans in check between Toul, a fortified town, fourteen miles west of Nancy and Epinal, also strongly fortified and near the Alsace frontier, it might repeat the coup which in 1870 drove General Charles Denis Sauter Bourbaki and his army of 150,000 men into Switzerland.

Hope is speculating on the possibility that the German swing around to the south may mean an effort on the part of the invaders to make sure of their retreat through the Meuse district, but more likely it is a scheme to strike such a paralyzing blow to the French army as to render the investment of Paris a safe operation.

The southerly movement of the Germans may effect a junction of the Crown Prince's army and the army of Bavaria, which has been held on the defensive in Lorraine. Thus the Germans would advance from the east and north in a vast enveloping movement destined to crush the allies' right wing by sheer weight of numbers, just as their left was pushed back during the last fortnight.

These preliminary moves, if showing nothing else, at least prove that the Germans realize that the siege of Paris, even its occupation, is quite worthless from a strategic standpoint while the allies are freed in the field.

BATTLE IN DIFFICULT COUNTRY. Corroboration of the above mentioned theory is contained in a dispatch from Berlin, which describes a battle in a difficult country between Verdun and Rethel as the deciding conflict as far as France is concerned. This dispatch states that the opposing forces are almost equally divided, but that the French have the advantage, fighting from a defensive position of their own choosing.

Another significant factor is the general understanding that Emperor William is inspecting the field of operation in this neighborhood. Reports disagree as to his exact whereabouts, but all agree that he is in the vicinity of the Franco-German border. The conflict in this region must have decisive results. The capture of the great French fortresses would be a terrible blow to France, while the repulse of the German army would give the French a chance to assume the offensive, a course needed on account of its moral effect in the western theater of the war.

Mines in the North Sea are becoming such a menace that it may be closed to navigation during the night time.

lated statements that are considered childish here. One of them published in the semi-official Voennoye Zvezdnoye of Berlin says:

"News of victories continue to flow into the staff but there are no news of defeats. This might cause surprise and has excited mistrust abroad, but our non-successes are not worth mentioning. The losses of the enemy in killed greatly exceed ours."

The Reichspost publishes an interview with the Bulgarian General Savoff, who declares that the Treaty of Bucharest is untenable and cannot be supported. He adds that the Bulgarians allied to Turkey whose interests are the same, must throw off the Russian yoke and its prejudicial influence. He is also quoted as saying that Serbia must be checked and that he thinks that war is inevitable.

LEMBERG DEFEAT DENIED.

By Associated Press.

THE HAGUE, Sept. 6, via London, Sept. 7. — The Austrian legation last night issued the following statement:

"Reports from Russian sources that Lemberg, Galicia, has been taken by the Russians after a desperate fight for possession of the city are untrue. In reality Lemberg, which was not fortified, was abandoned to the Russian troops without fighting for tactical and humane reasons." General von Auffenberg, in a statement received at the legation, says he is following up his successes at Zarnoss and that General Dank continues his attack in the direction of Lublin. The legation also contradicts a dispatch of last Saturday, according to which two Czech regiments had mutinied, claiming that at the present time there are no Czech troops in Vienna whose garrisons are of Slavic origin from Bosnia and Croatia. It also contradicts a report claiming that the Serbians had completely routed the Fourth, Eighth, Ninth and Thirteenth army corps. It is pointed out at the legation that these troops occupy a totally different position than that assigned them in the report.

VESSELS SUNK BY MINES

CRUISER AND BIG STEAMER ARE VICTIMS

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Sept. 7.—The light cruiser Pathfinder of the British navy has been blown up by a mine in the North Sea. The loss of life is not definitely known. The commander, Sydney W. Finch, was killed and the commander, Captain Francis M. Leake, was wounded. Six junior officers and two petty officers are missing.

The destruction of the Pathfinder occurred about 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon at a point ten miles northeast of Saint Abb's head, Scotland. While she was patrolling the coast, the cruiser struck a mine, which exploded near her magazine. Traversing ten miles distant felt the shock. From Eyemouth, four miles from the scene of the explosion, a huge cloud of smoke was visible on the horizon. A torpedo boat destroyer was sent to the rescue. She was followed by the Saint Abb's motor life boat.

BLOWN TO PIECES.
The Pathfinder was literally blown to pieces and the sea was strewn with wreckage. The devastation effect of the explosion is emphasized in the report of Coxswain Nesbitt of the Saint Abb's motor life boat. He said that for a mile and a half the water was strewn with wreckage of every description. There were few of the pieces that were larger than a man's leg. In the midst of the debris he found floating a child's bible and collections of personal articles from the ship's cabin. A message received in London this morning states that in addition to the motor life boat several teams of men were sent to the scene of the disaster. The Pathfinder sank, and adds that it is learned on reliable authority that the captain of the Pathfinder and some 33 or 34 of his crew were saved.

About ninety of the crew of the Pathfinder, dead and wounded, were picked up by torpedo boats and taken to a hospital at the naval base. Captain Peake and several other officers were saved. According to official announcement the casualties among the officers were one killed, eight missing, one seriously wounded and one slightly wounded.

VESSELS SUMMONED.
An eyewitness, describing the sinking of the cruiser, said:

"In less than a minute after the explosion we saw the smoke of two vessels and suddenly two torpedo boats came into view, leaving a great deal of water. We tried to attract their attention, but they made straight for the scene of the wreck. I don't know how any wireless operator could have sent a message from the cruiser, as the sea seemed to be no time for anything. The ship's back must have been broken and the two minutes following the explosion and before she sank must have been terrible. But somebody seems to have kept his head and a wireless message was certainly sent out. Three other destroyers soon arrived. One appeared to have men standing by the guns and on the outlook for submarines."

300 RESCUED.
By Associated Press.
GRIMSBY, England, via London, Sept. 7.—Nearly 300 persons rescued from the Wilson liner Runo by travelers when the steamship sank in the North sea a victim of a contact mine at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, have been landed at Grimsby and Hull. The prompt work of four trawlers, the Silanion, Strethron, Cameo and Prince Victor, saved the lives of nearly all on board.

Wilson line officials say that all the crew and all but 27 of the passengers are safe in this port. The Silanion picked up 128 survivors—practically all she could hold. The Cameo saved nearly a hundred and the two trawlers 70.

The Runo was bound from Hull on the long trip across the North sea to Archangel, and her passengers were mostly Russians from America, who were returning to Russia with their women and children. The boat hit the mine in mid-afternoon Saturday during fine weather. The explosion was terrific and a large portion of the ship was scattered, while several passengers were injured and one killed.

It was extremely fortunate that the little fleet of four trawlers, homeward bound, with their holds full of fish, chanced to be passing almost within hauling distance of the Runo at that moment. The trawlers, regardless of the consequences to themselves, in view of the possibility that there were other mines in the neighborhood, pushed through the wreckage and picked up sailors and passengers who were clinging to sticks and rafts.

These people who, in the first panic, had jumped overboard or had been blown in to the sea. Others were gathered from the decks of the fast-sinking ship.

The Runo, when she struck the mine, immediately tilted at an angle which made it difficult to launch the lifeboats. Only two were launched, survivors said, and these, after reaching the water, were soon overturned by the frightened people trying to get into them.

The Runo, after setting by the head somewhat, remained in that position nearly two hours, her bulkheads holding her afloat until they suddenly gave way, elevating her stern high in the air for a moment, after which she slipped quietly into the depths.

Many of the survivors, injured by flying debris, were taken in ambulances on arrival here. It is believed all will recover.

The work of the trawlers is declared by the Runo's crew to have been one of the finest episodes of its kind in the history of the sea. The trawler Silanion was the first on the scene. The Runo's people were forward and the Silanion had difficulty in getting near on account of the peculiar upward tilt given the ship. As the passengers generally understood little English it was hard to make the orders understood and this accounts partially for the panic and for the failure to get off more life boats. One of the stewards said he rushed into the steering gear and found the engine that it was wrecked and splintered. He noticed that some of the passengers were badly wounded.

After the efforts to launch the Runo's life boats had failed the crew of the Silanion threw out all their life lines, picking up women and children first as far as possible. The trawler Strethron arrived immediately afterward and saved 32 persons clinging to wreckage in the sea. The mate of the Strethron fastened a rope around his waist and was lowered a rope around his waist and was lowered where he was able to pick up many of the injured.

PARIS, Sept. 7.—A Havas Agency dispatch from Petrograd says that the Novoye Vremya has received a message from some sinking that the British destroyer Weiland has sunk several German torpedo boats.

Socialists Approve Italian Neutrality
By Associated Press.
PARIS, Sept. 7, 11:35 a. m.—A dispatch to the Havas Agency from Rome says that members of the Italian Socialist Reform party met in Rome last night and adopted resolutions approving the declaration of Italian neutrality in the present war.

The meeting recorded its opinion that the victory of the triple entente—Great Britain, France and Russia—would not only aid universal disarmament, but at the same time open the way to an exchange of national opinions and help the proletariat, both socially and economically. It declared also that the victory of the entente powers would assure Italy's predominance over Austro-Hungary in Balkan matters.

BRITISH FLEET TRANSPORT

COLONIAL LEGIONS TO WAR

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The British view of the first month of the war is set forth in the following cablegram received by the British embassy from the London foreign office:

"At the end of the first month of the war the command of the sea is left unchallenged in the hands of Great Britain and her allies. The main German and Austrian fleets remain in their harbors under shelter of their mines and batteries. Four German cruisers, one auxiliary cruiser, two destroyers and a submarine and one Austrian cruiser have been sunk. A German dreadnought and a cruiser have fled without fighting and have taken refuge in the Danubian. The loss to the British navy has been two light cruisers only."

"As a consequence of the naval supremacy over 200,000 troops have been able to cross the sea in different parts of the world without the loss of a man. The British expeditionary force has been carried to France, colonial expeditions have been sent to attack the colonies of Germany in Africa and the Pacific, and the French troops, under cover of the combined Anglo-French Mediterranean fleet, have been escorted from Algeria to France."

EMPIRE TO BATTLE.
"The resources of the empire under the cover of the British fleet will be fully developed and the armies in Europe will be reinforced by those of Australia, Canada, India and Africa without ceasing. German mercantile marine has disappeared from the ocean, while the (passage apparently omitted here). In every part of the outlying seas, in China, the Pacific, the Atlantic, the German ships have been avoided action with British cruisers, preferring to make ineffectual attacks upon unarmed merchant vessels to encountering men-of-war. Although the German cruisers are still at large, their depredations have been small, and they are unable to remain in any part where serious attack could be made upon British commerce."

"Strong as the British navy is to-day, there will be an accession of strength within the next twelve months of not less than ten first-class, one auxiliary cruiser, and twenty destroyers, thus still further increasing the margin of naval superiority in ships of all classes over Germany, who during the same period will add not more than a third of this number to her fleet."

NO SUFFERING.
"The prices of commodities have risen very little; there is only a small amount of unemployment; a fund amounting to over $2,000,000 has been voluntarily contributed by the people to meet any distress that may later arise. The financial situation is satisfactory. The British and French armies in France have fought a series of hotly-contested engagements, in which they have inflicted on the enemy losses immensely greater than they have suffered. Their fighting strength is unimpaired. Meantime in response to the call of the government, 300,000 fresh recruits have joined the British army voluntarily. Many new divisions are already in process of organization and the number of recruits now enlisting each day are equal to one division and a half. The whole empire is absolutely united and finally resolved to carry the war to a successful issue."

"Great Russian armies have invaded East Prussia and are on the point of entering Central Germany. The Austrians have been decisively beaten, first by the Serbians at Shabatz and on the River Drina, and afterwards by the Russians in Galicia. They have abandoned their campaign against Serbia and have lost the fortified city of Lemberg."

"Outside Europe the Japanese fleet and force of troops are blockading Tsing-Tao, in China. The German colony of Togoland in West Africa has been surrendered to an Anglo-French force. By the capture of the German armed vessel Wissman on Lake Nyassa, the control of the whole of Lake Nyassa has been assumed by Great Britain, trade and industry in all British colonies remains undisturbed. The colony of Samoa, in the Pacific, has been taken by a force from New Zealand."

BIG GERMAN FORCE WRESTS

TERMONDE FROM BELGIANS

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Sept. 7.—The correspondent of the Express, writing from Termonde, sixteen miles from Ghent, under date of Saturday, says:

"Termonde has fallen after six hours of fighting. The little force of 6000 Belgians made a gallant defense, but the enemy was 20,000 strong and the Belgians were unable to reply effectively to the deadly fire of the German siege guns. 'The Germans began the attack between 2 and 3 o'clock Saturday morning and the rain of shells over the town was incessant, until 10 o'clock. It was a hopeless task, attempting to hold earthworks against such odds, and one by one the slender defenses were abandoned. The defenders were able to leave in good order without serious losses, and went by way of Berlaer and Overmeire in the direction of Ghent."

SAYS LEMBERG HAILS RUSSIAN

RULE EVEN UNDER WAR TERMS

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Sept. 7.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Post in an article dealing with the capture of Lemberg and Halicz, says:

"The establishment of Russian authority in this region is being enormously facilitated by the fact that the native Slav population, after long experience with the tyrannical policy of Germanism in time of peace, welcomed the advent of the Russians even under the stern conditions of war."

"The Lemberg victory is a signal triumph for the daring strategy of the Russian commander-in-chief and entirely recovers the initiative for the Russian army which enabled him to carry out protected operations over a vast territory without the enemy getting a single hint to give them the alarm."

"Until the two Russian armies operating in a direction that met almost at right angles succeeded in effecting a junction in the enemy's country, they were offering, during a whole fortnight, magnificent opportunity to a vigorous attempt to get in between them and deal with them separately and only extreme secrecy could have justified this risk."

"That the Russian forces, during the preparation of their real attack, were merely playing with the Austrians' advance into undefended Poland may be safely assumed from the fact that when the Austrian main force did finally attempt a forward movement they only covered 24 miles from Zalkhoff to Opple. In that time the Russian forces marched and fought over more than seven times this distance."

"After entering the town, the Germans set it afire and throughout the morning dense clouds of smoke overhung the town. Not three miles away the peasants, with stinging and dull apathy, were still working in their gardens, some times turning to watch the smoke. Only the children seemed afraid, and they ran and hid from motor cars."

"Between Ghent and Bruges there is little space. Not three miles away the women are working quietly in the fields. At one village four men were calmly building a wayside chapel. As I passed they were putting in place an image of the Virgin Mary. Bruges is perfectly calm, but it is the calm of despair, not of confidence."

"The foreign embassies are lodged in mansions provided for them by the French government in various quarters of the city. The embassies still remaining in Paris are represented here by secretaries of embassies. John W. Barrett, the United States diplomatic representative, has been allotted a house in the outskirts of the city. His staff here is a light one, as there are few Americans in Bordeaux. The Temps appeared here last night for the first time. It printed a single sheet, preserving, however, its characteristic aspect. Several other Parisian papers also are being printed here in the office of one of the principal local newspapers."

Summing up the military situation in its issue, the Temps says: "Without any exaggeration we are justified in affirming that, notwithstanding the falling back of our army, the situation as a whole cannot be considered as alarming."

American Vessel Is British War Prize
By Associated Press.
SHANGHAI, Sept. 7.—Honkong, reports the arrival there of a number of prizes including the American steamer Hanamet and the German steamers Paklat, Friska and Rajburi. The prize crew of the Paklat held the German engineers at work for three days at the point of revolvers and frustrated an attempt to disable the engines.

The American steamer Hanamet is 2705 tons burden and is owned by W. K. Atz of Shanghai. The Paklat and Rajburi are owned by the North German Lloyd, the former being of 1227 tons burden and the Rajburi 1159. The Friska is a ship of 315 tons.

Organization of Government Seat in Bordeaux Being Rapidly Effected.

By Associated Press.
BORDEAUX, via Paris, Sept. 7.—The work of effecting an adequate organization of the French government in Bordeaux is proceeding. Governmental documents are arriving from Paris by the van load. Several vans came in this morning and were drawn up in front of the new office. It was noted with interest by the crowd that they bore names of firms engaged in the moving business in Colmar and Muelhausen, Alsace Lorraine. The vans had been captured by the French in the early stages of the war and sent to Paris. The installation of the government administrations is rapidly nearing completion. The officers occupy all the big buildings, including the university, in which the war department is housed. The foreign office occupies the better part of a small street near a handsome public garden.

Most of the offices are equipped in an exceedingly scant manner. One leading official in the foreign office, after many exertions, succeeded in obtaining a kitchen table, two plain chairs and a pen and pencil. There is very little ink here and the fluid is regarded in official circles as almost priceless.

The foreign embassies are lodged in mansions provided for them by the French government in various quarters of the city. The embassies still remaining in Paris are represented here by secretaries of embassies. John W. Barrett, the United States diplomatic representative, has been allotted a house in the outskirts of the city. His staff here is a light one, as there are few Americans in Bordeaux. GERMANS PLACE BAN ON HOSTILE READING
By Associated Press.
COFFENHAGEN, via London, Sept. 7.—The German authorities have formed a national association to prevent literary works from hostile countries being translated into German. The authors of plays belonging to hostile countries are now mentioned in the German press. This movement, it is said, is due to the attitude of Belgian and British authors."

GERMAN GOLD INCREASES.
By Associated Press.
LONDON, Sept. 7.—A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Copenhagen says that the German Reichsbank's count for August 31 shows the gold reserve to have increased by $5,464,000. The Lombard loan was reduced by $11,000,000. The notes in circulation represented $4,331,000,000 marks ($54,050,000).

Many Fugitives From Havre Among Penniless European Visitors.

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Sept. 7.—One hundred and sixty-five Americans, the greater number well-to-do women, arrived here today from Plymouth, where they were landed by the American cruiser Tennessee. They spent last night aboard the cruiser because of a lack of accommodations on shore. They had a fine trip across the channel and spoke highly of the comfort aboard the ship and the attention of the officers and crew.

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Sept. 7.—Among the 2000 Americans who crowded the rooms of the American relief committee when it opened this morning were 160 who came over from Havre on the American cruiser Tennessee. The remainder were chiefly from Flushing, Ostend and Rotterdam, and were largely Americanized Germans, who are virtually without money and who must be assisted back to the United States.

Refugees from Germany say there is still a large number of American citizens in Germany who are unable to get out because of the limited train facilities.

A large proportion of the fugitives who are applying to the committee for relief are absolutely penniless. The crowd today was so great that the committee merely gave applicants "enough money to buy something to eat and a ticket to the next train presented in the day to the finance committee for further help."

GREAT BATTLE RAGING

ALONG FRENCH CENTER

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Sept. 7.—The correspondent of the Telegraph describes the battle being fought on the French front, from Bethune to Verdun, which he says is an extremely difficult country. "The French have strong forces concentrated there," he says, "and the opposing forces are fighting upon almost equal terms. Such advantages in numbers as may rest with the Germans is offset by the French position of defense."

"Emperor William has joined the crown prince's army and this is the emperor's fifth appearance in the theater of actual operations."

The armies of the Duke of Wurttemberg and Crown Prince Frederick William have long been operating to gain a foothold on French soil. They have now crossed the Meuse and have come to grips with ten French army corps."

GERMANS HEADING OFF BELGIAN MOVEMENT
By Associated Press.
LONDON, Sept. 7.—The Antwerp correspondent of the Post, in giving a description of the situation there, says: "It is clear that the Germans are nervous of a forward movement of the Belgian army and their expedition north of Brussels was designed to keep that army at home, rather than to make any serious attempt on Antwerp."

There is not the slightest doubt but that the Alameda County Exhibition and Carnival will be a big thing in making the residents of the San Francisco Bay district, both from the soil and its manufacturing establishments. It will also attract thousands of buyers and sellers to get together and will also show the consumer what they can buy in the United States. The exhibition is due to be held at Idora Park, California, one or two days in advance under the slogan of "Patronize Home Industry."

It is hoped that everything toward making this exhibition a big success, and it should most certainly be made a yearly institution."

FAVORED BY ROTARIANS.

T. E. Bridges, president of the Oakland Rotary Club, president of Oakland Business College of Oakland, has endorsed the industrial exposition in the following letter:

Dear Sir: You and the Ladies of the Alameda County Products. There are many of people here who have never had an opportunity to really see what this county produces. Not only is this true in regard to the excellent and varied crops produced, but is also true of the many manufactured articles.

It seems to me that every commercial and manufacturing establishment in this county should take advantage of this opportunity to display their goods and that they should make it a part of their policy in making this exhibition pronounced success, so that the public will demand that it be held each succeeding year. I wish you success. Yours sincerely,

PRESIDENT WILL REMAIN AT POST

"America Greater Than Party"
Says Wilson, Refusing Speaking Tour.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—President Wilson has announced that he will not make a speaking tour during the coming campaign. He declared his intention of "staying on the job" because of the "unlooked-for international situation."

The President made known his intentions in a letter to Representative Doremus of Michigan, chairman of the Democratic Congressional Committee, who had written him asking whether he would make a speaking campaign this fall. The correspondence was made public at the White House yesterday.

"America is greater than any party," the President wrote. "America cannot properly be served by any man who for a moment measures his interest against her advantage. The time has come for great things. These are the days for destiny for the United States as for the other nations of the world. A little wisdom, a little courage, a little self-sacrifice, a little more of the old-fashioned virtues, and we shall have set a heroic example. Parties will fare well enough without nursing if the men who make them up and the men who lead them forget themselves to serve a cause and set a great example forward on the path of liberty and peace."

Despite his determination to make no speeches, Mr. Wilson will "take occasion as opportunity offers to state and perhaps re-state to the people in the clearest and most convincing manner I can the things which the Democratic party has attempted to do."

The President asked that Congress "re-state to the people the work of the past year and pressing service and bring it to a successful conclusion." He said, however, that he saw nothing to keep Congress in session after the emergency work was finished.

The President had been asked to speak in Iowa, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Ohio and other states. He had previously told those who asked him that he would make no promises until he saw what the general situation was. His letter follows:

LETTER TELLS VIEWS.
"White House, Sept. 4, 1914.
"My dear Mr. Doremus: I have read your letter of September 1 with a keen appreciation of its importance. It appeals to me as the leader of the party with peculiar force and persuasiveness. The close of a very extraordinary session of Congress is at hand, which is, I venture to say, been more fruitful in important legislation of permanent usefulness to the country than any session of Congress within the memory of the active public men of our generation. A great constructive program has been carried through for which the country has long waited, and has been carried through with the approval and support of judicious men of all parties. And we have abundant reason to congratulate ourselves upon the record that has been made during the busy 17 months we have devoted to our great legislative task. Certainly in ordinary circumstances, if we were free to disengage ourselves for the purpose we would be warranted in now directing our energies to a great campaign in support of an appeal to the country to give us the encouragement of its endorsement at the autumn elections."

"We would go to the country with a very sincere appeal in which there need be no pretense or boast of any kind, but a plain statement of things actually accomplished which ought to be, in my opinion, entirely convincing. It is a record which shows us at peace with the world; the questions which plagued business with doubt and uncertainty and irresponsible criticism out of the way, thoughtfully settled and disposed of; the path of sure-footed adjustment clear ahead of us, prosperity certain to come by means which all can approve and applaud."

Moreover, there is a program of another kind ahead of us to which it is inspiring to look forward—a program free from debate, except as to the best means by which to accomplish what all desire. The great questions immediately ahead of us are the building up of our merchant marine with all that that means in the development and diversification of our foreign commerce and the systematic conservation and economic use of our natural resources, subjects most talked about, but little acted upon. Here are other great pieces of legislation waiting to be done to which we could turn without any controversy except, as I have said, as to the best ways of doing them."

MUST HAVE SUPPORT.
"I believe that ways can be found to do these things readily enough if the country will give us its hearty support and trust us to do them; and it would have been a genuine pleasure to me to make to you and your colleagues such as I have had in the two houses of Congress during the present memorable session. I trust there will be many occasions upon which I may have the privilege of calling the attention of my duties and attention to it and think of nothing but the duties of the hour. I am not at all now and will not be, so far as I can see, to turn away from those duties to undertake any kind of political canvass."

The present emergency I am keenly aware of the two-fold responsibility which devolves upon me as President of the United States and the responsibility under which I am as leader of a great political party. Of course, the whole country will expect of me and my party the most active and energetic campaign; that I must remain here to attend to the serious work which is before me and to the duties which are mine as President of the United States and the responsibility under which I am as leader of a great political party. Of course, the whole country will expect of me and my party the most active and energetic campaign; that I must remain here to attend to the serious work which is before me and to the duties which are mine as President of the United States and the responsibility under which I am as leader of a great political party."

I have, therefore, reached the conclusion that an active part in the approaching campaign; that I must remain here to attend to the serious work which is before me and to the duties which are mine as President of the United States and the responsibility under which I am as leader of a great political party. Of course, the whole country will expect of me and my party the most active and energetic campaign; that I must remain here to attend to the serious work which is before me and to the duties which are mine as President of the United States and the responsibility under which I am as leader of a great political party."

I shall, no doubt, take occasion as opportunity offers, to state and perhaps re-state to the people in the clearest and most convincing terms I can command the things which the Democratic party has attempted to do in the settlement of great questions which have for many a long year pressed for solution, and I earnestly hope that they will generously open their minds to what I may have to say, but I shall not undertake to win their approval of my earnest desire to be granted by their suffrage the support of another Congress to interfere

With the daily performance of my official duties or distract my mind from them. The country cannot be deceived concerning it and will assess it justly. What I chiefly expect and demand and what I believe will be most surely won by is the performance of duty without fear or favor and without regard to personal consequences.

"And certainly this is a time when America expects every man to do his duty without thought of profit or advantage to himself. America is greater than any party. America cannot properly be served by any man who for a moment measures his interests against her advantage."

DAYS OF DESTINY.
"The time has come for great things. These are the days big with destiny for the United States as for the other nations of the world. A little wisdom, a little courage, a little self-forgetful devotion may under God turn that destiny this way or that. Great hearts, great natures will respond. Even little men will rejoice to be stimulated and guided and set an heroic example. Parties will fare well enough without nursing if the men who make them up and the men who lead them forget themselves to serve a cause and set a great example forward on the path of liberty and peace."

"Cordially and sincerely yours,
"WOODROW WILSON."

OAKLAND TEAM IS WINNER AT DRILL

Beats San Francisco Aggregation at San Jose Meet.

In a competition drill between the military branches of the San Francisco and Oakland Moose lodges, the Oakland lodge, No. 342, won the silver trophy yesterday afternoon.

More than 1000 members of the Moose order are holding a three-day celebration in San Jose. The program included a barbecue at Congress Springs yesterday morning, the competitive drill yesterday afternoon and a novelty ball tonight.

Dr. Kaplan, when he left this city early this year, announced his desire to find an Eastern charge to be in touch with his daughter, Miss Blanche Kaplan, who is studying music in the Atlantic states. Dr. Kaplan hopes to see her become a noted pianist.

CLUB FESTIVAL BIG ATTRACTION TO SOCIETY

DANVILLE, Sept. 7.—Hundreds of persons arrived here yesterday, en route to the big harvest festival and celebration of the Mount Diablo Park club, at the old Seth Cook ranch.

The affair, which is in the nature of a social Mardi Gras, opened with bronco-busting, vaudeville and Wild West features and a great barbecue.

A feature of yesterday's celebration was an exhibition drill by members of the National Guard and a sacred concert in the big amphitheater, under the direction of Miss Margaret Bradley. Mrs. Irene Kelly Williams, formerly of the Philharmonic orchestra in San Francisco, also took part in the program.

The main event of the festival will take place today—athletic events, racing and trotting races and a horse show. Several prominent entries well known to turfmen are already signed for the races.

ESCAPES "HEALTH FARM;" CAPTURED BY POLICE

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Roland B. Molneux, who was acquitted in 1902 of the murder of Mrs. Katherine L. Adams after two sensational trials, was detained yesterday by the police of Babylon, L. I.

Molneux, who had been undergoing treatment for a nervous breakdown, dashed down the street yesterday. It is charged, clad in a bathrobe and trousers and knocked down several pedestrians, including two women. He was finally overpowered by a policeman and locked up. The technical charge of disorderly conduct was placed against him and he was remanded until Monday.

Molneux has been a patient at a health farm in Babylon for several days. It is said he has been suffering from overwork on a play which he has written, based upon his observations while he was a prisoner in the death house at Sing Sing.

CATHOLIC CLUB FETE BEGINS AT SAN MATEO

SAN MATEO, Sept. 7.—Beginning today, the Catholic Club festival and fair at San Mateo will continue until Wednesday night. The affair will take place at the Knights of Columbus grounds at Baldwin and Griffin streets.

The cornerstone of the new Knights of Columbus clubrooms will be laid Wednesday afternoon by Archbishop Riordan. Addresses will be made by Edward Tobin, Joseph Scott of Los Angeles and Judge Paul McCormick, state deputy of the Knights.

The club itself is under the management of the Catholics of the county, the board being made up of representatives from several of the principal towns. Edward Tobin of Hillsborough is president. The other representatives being: Joseph Ruegg, San Mateo; Gustav McGregor, Burlingame; Ben Hill, San Bruno; Ambrose McGreener, South City; Joseph Maher, Redwood, and Harry Moroy, Menlo.

FUGITIVE RETURNS TO AVENGE SELF; IS SHOT

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—Carrying out a threat of vengeance made three years ago, Jack Stafford returned from Manitoba, where he had served a term in the penitentiary, broke into the home of his brother-in-law, Leon Duffy, at 361 Clementina street, early yesterday morning, attacked him with his bare fists, and was stopped only when Duffy fired pistol bullets into Stafford's left cheek and right breast.

Stafford is lingering between life and death at the Central Emergency hospital. Duffy is under arrest pending the outcome of Stafford's wounds.

Three years ago, Detectives Frank McGraw, Tom Conlon and Mackie traced to Stafford the theft of $20,000 worth of jewelry from Mrs. Silverman's store on Jackson street, near East street. He escaped, leaving a message for Duffy, charging that Duffy betrayed him to the police and vowing to return for revenge.

ABANDON ATTEMPT TO SAVE BURIED MINERS.

ADAMSON, ORE., Sept. 7.—Because of the large quantities of gas collected in the tunnels and the continuous rain of rock and coal, attempts to rescue the 12 miners who are entombed in mine No. 1 of the Union Coal Company here were abandoned temporarily yesterday.

A. C. Boyle, state mine inspector, headed the rescue crew. He asserted that the miners probably never would be reached. The mine is said to be a total loss. Another attempt will be made to reach the men today.

1443 San Pablo Ave., Oakland

G. A. R. MEMBERSHIP STEADILY DECLINING.

The vanguard's vanished in the mists from out our sight forever;
The army's crossed the pontoon bridge across Death's rolling river;
The rear-guard only waits the call to join the grand division
In camp for aye on glory's plain, beyond our mortal vision.

Not all the men who fought in the armies of the Union from 1861 to 1865 belong to the Grand Army of the Republic. But as a rule nearly all soldiers who participated in the strife hold a membership in the organization which held its first national encampment in Indianapolis, November 20, 1866. Figures are not available to show the high tide in membership, but it is apparent at the rate of decline shown by the report of the adjutant-general of the Detroit encampment, that the society cannot exist many years longer. One year ago, according to figures, there were 180,203 members in good standing, while at the first of this the total was 171,335, a loss of 8868 as against a loss of 11,119 for the previous year. As time advances it is apparent these losses will increase, for the reason that the veterans are growing older and the mortality may be expected to increase. Presuming a man to have been twenty when the rebellion broke out, he will be seventy-three at this writing and his days are limited.

Truly it is the rear-guard awaiting the call to join the grand division. Of the 2,772,408 men engaged in the civil war, there cannot be more than 250,000 left. The others were either killed in action or have died since the surrender of Lee. This last figure includes all branches of the service, including the navy.

The nation has glorified in these men, and righteously, for they fought for the preservation of the republic and, incidentally, the emancipation of the negro slaves of the south. While that war might have been avoided had the leaders of thought and action on both sides been of the class designated by Lytton as "entirely great," in the face of the circumstances it was impossible, so these men went forth to battle and for four long, weary years, fought to preserve to men the right of self government in a nation large enough to successfully resist oppression from the outside. Had the south won its contentions there is no telling what might have happened. If a given number of States possessed the right to secede, then any unit held the same right and as time progressed, instead of the United States of America and the Confederate States of America, there might have had, and undoubtedly would have had, more than two nations, instead of the compact, strong, virile federation that now exists.

The civil war was fought and won, not for the purpose of conquest, not for the purpose of exercising dominion over a conquered people, but to preserve an equal measure of liberty for all engaged, both victor and vanquished. The men who fought it are entitled to respect from every citizen of the republic, and in these days, when heads have turned gray and steps that were once light are faltering, when eyes that once sighted the rifle are dim, it is fitting that the greatest measure of honor be given.

The war across the ocean is a war of kings. The civil war was a war of peoples, each imbued with an idea that their position was the correct one. Right triumphed and no better proof can be found than in the attitude of the conquered, who have long since forgotten the strife and are now engaged in walking hand in hand with their brothers of the north in a march toward a still better condition.

GETTING THE GOAT IN FAIR PASADENA.

Pasadena is a pretty town, devoted mainly to homes for the wealthy. It has many regulations. Roosters must not crow nor cows low within its classic precincts. Dogs are tabooed and cats must be kept indoors. There are restrictive ordinances in sheaves. Bob Burdette once told the Merchants' Association there something to this effect:

Time was when the broncho-buster rode noisily through your streets at midnight and the cop on the corner chewed navy tobacco. But you have passed legislation to the end that today the poor commuter must place a silencer on his lawn mower, and the traffic cop is suspended temporarily if he chews anything but gum drops. A Sunday afternoon spent with the family at the band concert in the park is regarded as a debauch.

The latest to incur the displeasure of the authorities in Pasadena is the goat and the Belgian hare. Milk in Pasadena is from twelve to twenty cents a quart, depending on whether it is certified or non-certified. Hence the working classes have been keeping goats for the purpose of their milk. Meat is high and lots of persons there have been growing Belgian hares to help out the food supply.

The health authorities object to goats because their fragrance offends the sensitive olfactory of the upper classes. Just what reasons have been advanced to support the war on the hares we are not informed, but it is proposed to prohibit the keeping of goats within one hundred feet of any house, and as few houses are more than that distance apart in Pasadena, the war is on.

The middle classes contend they have some rights which the wealthy are bound to respect and the working men say they contribute to the welfare of the place to an extent where they are entitled to raise hares, which are clean things, in small pens. In consequence the goat and hare owners are up in arms and are planning a campaign for the retention of their favorite animals. What the outcome will be no one can predict, but the struggle promises to be lengthy, reports indicating that the goats have the larger representation when election day rolls round.

HALF-MINUTE SMILES

"Seems to me—Ma what is Pa's usual income?"
"Seem to him—About 2 a. m."
City Boarder: Young man what's the quickest way to get tanned?
"Boy: Ma tells 'er not to!"
Does he ever have much to say?
"No, but that doesn't keep him from talking a great deal."
"Will you sail with me on the sea of matrimony?"
"Yes, after you make a raft of money."
"Yes, I was sinking for the third time when he rescued me and brought me to land."
"And so you 'landed' him?"
"Surely. This was a sailing a new man out of me."
"Marie: I'm down here looking for a new man. I'm still divorced."
"Gabe: The first straw hat was made in 1784."
"Steve: Was it that long ago? I saw a fellow wearing it yesterday."
"You should take a vacation, old chap!"
"I suppose all things benefit by a rest!"
"Sure! Even the calendar is fresher after taking a month off!"
"Ma: Was it a case of love at first sight?"
"Ma: No, at second sight. The first time he saw her he didn't know she was his better."

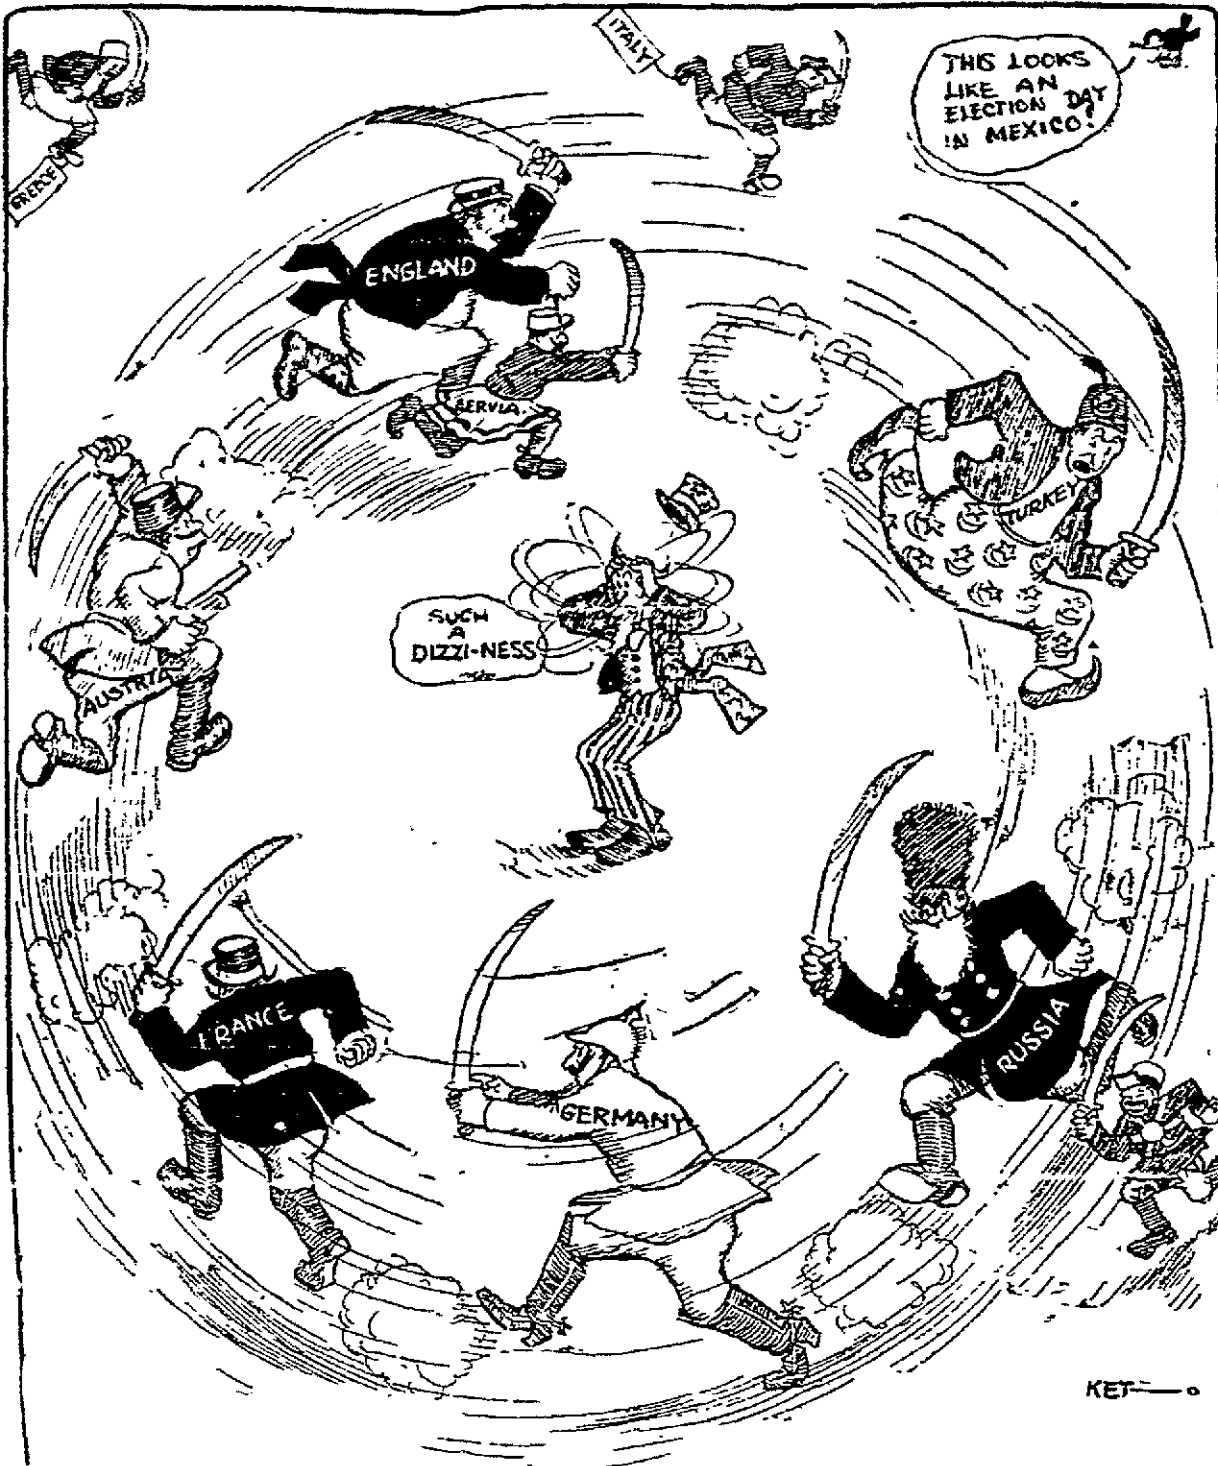

THE SILENCES

The silences are these: The twilight gloom,
The calm before the dawning when earth waits
The life-flood surging through the mom's pearl nares,
The solemn brooding of a cell of doom,
The slumber shrouding round the crumbly tomb
Of some great queen of long ago, who mates
No more with conquerors, whose loves and hates
Are one with her dark hair's rose-sweet perfume,
In silence of the peaks white-crowned with snow,
Of mountain lake whose midnight mocks the sky—
These silences are a silence sweet they know;
But more than these, far more serene, sublime,
The restful sleep of those who nobly die."
—Arthur Wallace Peach.

THE POETIC GRIND

The conversation turned to poets and the poetic grind the other night when Congressman Joseph Howell was reminded of an instance that happened in an editorial sanctum.
One afternoon a rather emaciated citizen entered the sanctum with a sheet of paper in his hand and timidly approached the editor's desk.
"Pardon me, sir," he said, "breaking in on the editorial business, do you ever buy any poetry?"
"Sometimes," answered the editor, holding out his hand. "Depends on how bad it is. Let's see what you have."
Taking the manuscript, the editor glanced over it a moment and then turned to the poet.
"Look here, young man," he said, a little impatiently, "why in the world don't you typewrite your stuff?"
"Typewrite it?" exclaimed the poet with considerable feeling. "Say, man, if I were expert enough to manipulate a typewriter, do you think for one minute that I would waste time writing poetry?"

TAHOE RUN IS HISTORY MAKER

The TRIBUNE Scores Among Winners; Evert Excels Glidden Tours.

TAHOE TAVERN, Sept. 7.—Surpassing even the celebrated Glidden tour of the east, the San Francisco Tahoe Tavern endurance run ended yesterday afternoon at this Sierran place, making history as the biggest success in the chronicles of motor-dom.

Winners in the private owners' division were:

Dr. McGill, Haynes driver. A. M. Wheeler, Overland driver. P. C. Frederickson, Studebaker driver.

O. J. Williams, Cartcar driver. The Overland official car and the Buick pilot car deserve praise for their efficiency and for the skill their drivers exhibited.

Among the winners of the big run the most conspicuous was THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE, which scored a distinct beat of the other dailies by arriving at the big hotel on the lake early Sunday afternoon, this being the first time that any of the big morning papers of the bay regions ever reached here on the same date of issue.

PARK DIRECTORS TO FILE REPORT

Rockridge Project to Come Before the City Council.

The board of park directors has received the proposed park in the Rockridge and a report is being prepared to be submitted to the city council. The report will give details as to cost of land, cost of maintenance, advisability of purchase and value of land, and will probably recommend that if the park be taken over it be purchased on the district assessment plan.

The residents of the district recently petitioned the city council that the land be taken over for park and playground purposes. The matter was referred to the park and playground directors. The playground directors have also viewed the land, and will submit a report similar to that of the park department.

APRIL 17 TO BE BIG DAY AT FAIR

San Francisco Will Observe 1915 Anniversary of Historic Fire.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—San Francisco Day at the Panama-Pacific Exposition will be Saturday, April 17, 1915. It would have been April 16, but for the circumstance that the date happened to fall on Sunday.

An agreement as to the time has just been made by the Exposition authorities and the city officials.

Mayor Rolph has notified the Exposition that April 17 will be declared a holiday and that the festival will begin at midnight between April 16 and 17. Red fires will then be burned on Twin Peaks, Mount Tamalpais and on all of the eminences in the city and in the surrounding country.

At sunrise salutes will be fired from all the forts around San Francisco bay. From that hour until midnight special events will come thick and fast. The program has not been arranged, nor will it be until every suggestion has been heard and considered.

While it is not thought that the admission to the Panama-Pacific Exposition on San Francisco Day will reach the Chicago Day total at the Columbian Exposition of 1933, still it will go into the hundreds of thousands. Chicago Day had an admission record of 761,994. St. Louis Day at the Exposition of 1904 had a record of 351,690.

To Play Tennis for Junior Championship

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The first of the junior championship tennis tournaments established by the executive committee of the United States National Lawn Tennis Association, at the meeting at Newport, R. I., two weeks ago will be held in the course of the West Side Tennis Club, Forest Hills, L. I., beginning Monday, September 14. It will be put on as an annual tournament in the summer and doubles for the junior metropolitan titles.

SEEKS WIFE AND DRAWS REVOLVER

Pulls Trigger on Manager of Hostelry, but Fails to Kill.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—The lobby of the fashionable Hotel Stewart was thrown into confusion and a number of women guests made a hasty and hysterical exit shortly before 10 o'clock this morning when C. W. Green, manager of the hostelry was backed up against his desk and a revolver shoved against his breast by an infuriated citizen. The latter, Lee Stanley, 45 years old, a liquor salesman, had called to see his divorced wife and on being refused permission to visit her apartment by Green flew into a passion.

Drawing an automatic revolver, which he had when he asked for his wife, Stanley forced Green to walk along the lobby to the desk, where he deliberately placed the weapon against the manager's body and pulled the trigger three times. Only the fact that the safety clutch was up prevented the discharge of the gun, saved Green's life.

Bell boys, alive to the situation, and seeing that they had nothing to fear from the revolver, closed in on Stanley and struggled with him for its possession. He threw them off and fled to the street. Running up Geary street he turned down Mason, pursued by bell boys and citizens, but succeeded in getting away.

The Stewart Hotel, which is located at 353 Geary street, just opposite the St. Francis, was filled with guests, several of whom were writing letters at desks when Stanley entered. He demanded the number of his wife's apartment and Green, seeing that he was incensed, and almost irresponsible, tried to calm him. He refused to be quieted, and in loud tones cried forth his demands. Green then ordered the woman screamed and started to escort him to the door. By this time the attention of those in the place had been attracted and there were a number of witnesses to Stanley's drawing a big 38 automatic. Several women screamed and made quick exits, and the gun play began.

Detective Stiel is searching for Stanley.

Puts Burglar to Flight With Shots

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—William Magnus of 551 Hayes street, brother of Dr. Max Magnus, put two burglars to flight last night and saved the store of H. and C. Mangels, grocers, at Hayes and Buchanan street, from a looting. Magnus heard a noise opposite his home and throwing open a window saw the thieves attempting to enter a back door. He fired a revolver from a bureau drawer he emptied it at them. They fled in different directions and the shots attracted the police. Officers in the neighborhood gathered in three suspects who are held in detinue. They are James White, Ralph Buchanan and Frank Owens.

ALAMEDA

LABOR DAY SERMON
GIVEN IN ALAMEDA

Rev. F. K. Baker Asserts That
Two Forces Are Not Far Separated.

ALABAMA, Sept. 1.—The First Methodist Church of which Rev. Frank K. Bayer is pastor, observed Labor Sunday with fitting services last night. In Dr. Bayer's sermon, "The Labor of Love," he declared that "the people heard him gladly," he said in part:

"The questions, debate and agitation touching the social and industrial questions of the day no name is more frequently mentioned than that of Christ. It is the Christ of the people. He is the Christ of some advocates of organized labor and of Socialists to belabor the church and the ministry for not sanctioning all the demands of the labor union. The church is to make the nation stronger in real Christian brotherhood. Organized labor is to make the nation stronger as some might think. Both stand for the value of human life, of the human body, and the development of the human soul. Both are to have their full share in the times of doing her full share in the great struggle for the truer and larger life of the common people. The heart is in the right place and her direction is right. There are so very many schemes of social remedy, none of which is perfect. The church is to be the usher in the golden age that it behooves all interested to stop making faces and calling hard names simply because they are different. The church is to be the most satisfactory program. While we may differ as to just what our own social reform should be, we must agree all along in advocating and propagating certain fundamental principles which Jesus advocated. Jesus struck a hard blow at the

VALUE OF INDIVIDUAL.

"Jesus put emphasis on the value of the individual man. He began to work from within by renewing in character the individual man. Many reformers today hold that the only way to make men better is to have ideal men. But that does not always follow. Mr. Stabile, the champion of labor, declares: 'It is not so much a question as to what a man is without, as to what he is within.' It is the character of his being." The best product of this or any other world is a good and noble character. As one has expressed it, "The test of a religious, political, or educational system is the man which it forms." Guided by this test the Christian church and state should not be lightly spoken of. Jesus would cure the evils of society and the world by dealing the malice of those composing it down to the very roots. He would compose it into a new man, a new man of justice. We can legislate men into a better environment, which may lessen the temptation of sin, but we can't legislate them into thrift and piety. It rests with Christ to change a man within.

"A new social birth is taking place throughout the world. When men come to make the kingdom of God first in their lives we shall see what God can do for society. The kindest is he who sacrifices himself most for the good of others. The Christian standard is the ultimate standard and it is spreading. You can't stop this glorious transformation taking place. Jesus with his Golden Rule of conduct, his doctrines of the Fatherhood of God, of Transforming Power and Supremacy of Love, brings to our social questions the only possible solution - Only as men come to their common level in coming to Christ can they form that union that will drive out all the ills arising from the unharmonious relations of men and countries and work out the commonweal. It is only as men center themselves in Christ that they can have deliverance from either personal or social evil.

"We should guard ourselves against prejudice against proposed reform measures, because of the erratic utterances of some of their adherents. The Church represents the moral power of the world and its mission is to make men and conditions better. The great Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America representing many millions of members, has declared its attitude of utter hostility to all forces making for unfair, unchristian conditions, physical, mental, or moral, of our sons and daughters of toll. Christianity includes the whole of life in the larger claims of humanity. That sort of capitalism and commercialism which intends to win regardless how much harm business carries with it a sword that will pierce it to death. Hasten the day when business men will not scoff at the sentiment of the Golden Rule, saying, 'Business is business, and the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule, the Beatitudes, have nothing to do with commercialism, which is no charity organization.' While laboring for just end.

prevent the exploitation of the working-men by any employer or capitalist, let us give Christ and the Church a square deal as their heart is set on that for every man. May the day hasten when all that separates men shall be removed and each man shall treat every other man as a brother beloved. That day comes as each of us wills it.
